

Dirch Blewn

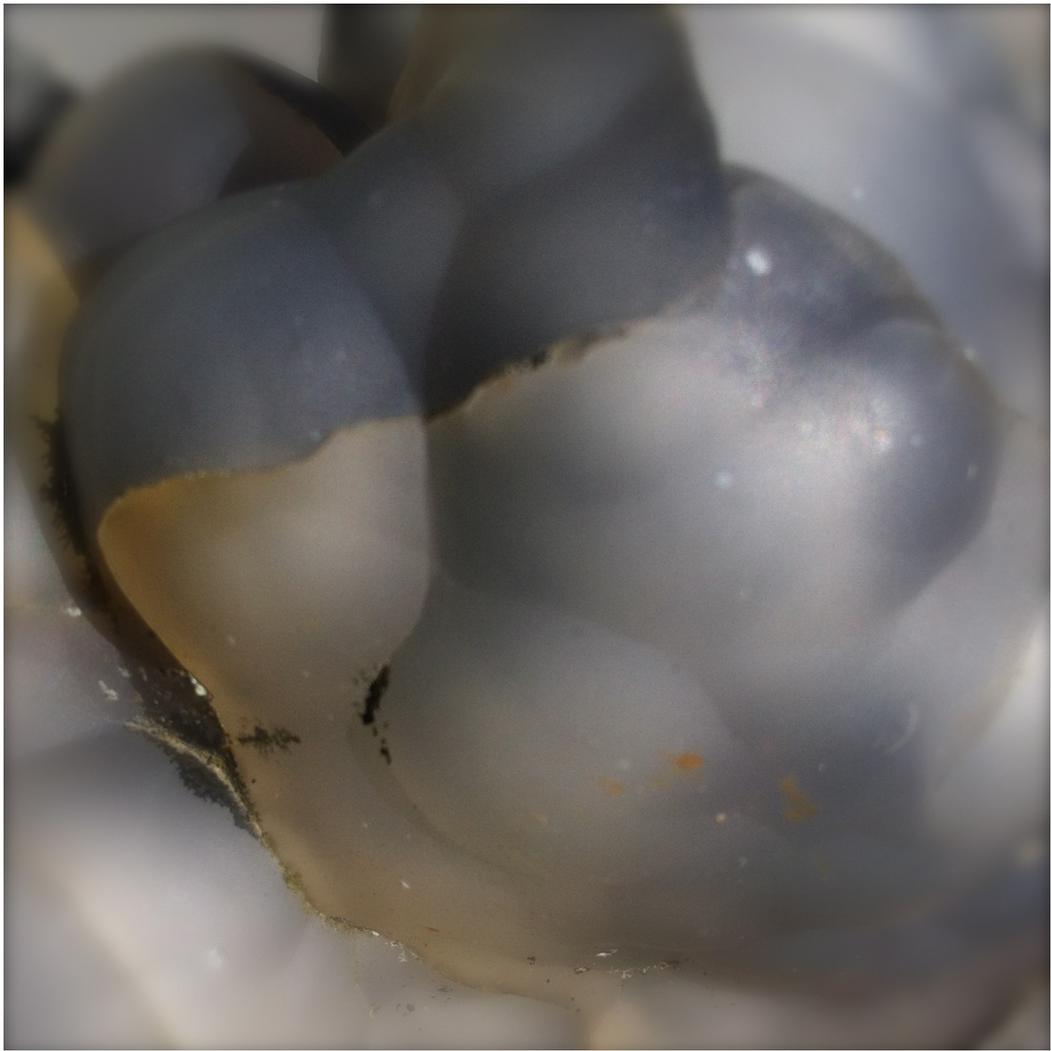

Axis

Dirch Blewn

Axis

1. working on my shit 7:21
2. precipitation on unknown event 8:52
3. seven voices 7:49
4. tradition 6:47
5. weirdywood 6:50
6. night crime 7:10
7. sennilega parf te 4:51
8. san fil 4:37
9. flogging a dead horse 6:00
10. sing this when i'm gone 6:09
11. a ballad of stick and string 3:43

1. working on my shit

Recording of blackbirds singing in a park near Spitalfields, London 2015 and interrupted by teenage girls of unknown origin. Additional studio recordings of Plumbutter through metallic resonator.

2. precipitation of unknown event

Recording of rain inside a tent in Bexhill, East Sussex 2016. Improvisation recorded using double Plumbutter during event, golf buggy and birdsong intervention.

3. seven voices

Response to a poem 'Seven Voices in Amber' by Hung-Chen Wang. London 2016

4. tradition

Wax cylinder recording from Smithsonian Institute through a ridiculous chain of guitar pedals. London 2016

5. weirdywood

Live recording of dawn chorus through a Cocoquantus, a wood, East Sussex 2016. Additional recording of gong, same location.

6. night crime

Recording of improvisation on double Plumbutter through metallic resonators, London 2015.

7. sennilega þarf te

Improvisation on double Plumbutter, Sidrax and Tetrax. East Sussex 2016.

8. san fil

Improvisation on Plumbutter, additional recordings of Plumbutter through metallic resonator, East Sussex 2016.

9. flogging a dead horse

Recording of double Plumbutter through metallic resonators with additional intervention, London 2016.

10. sing this when I'm gone

Recording of double Plumbutter through metallic resonators, additional recordings of Sidrax through metallic resonators, wind tapping microphone cables against gong & roadsign. East Sussex 2016.

11. a ballad of stick on string

Recording of pencil hitting zither strings through guitar pedals, London 2016.

axis

pronounced

plural noun

noun

aksis

axes

definition - axis is a line along which a journey can be traced, a central column, the backbone
from which all hangs, a spinning body travelling around imagination, aksis of unreal lines,
the reality is axes, axes chop down trees, wood is where it's at,
wire up wood, fire up wood.

this is an album of wood recordings
through metal gong. gong is a symbol, cymbolic signal, call to prayer, an indication of importance,
a call to war, pronouncer of peace,
a resonant body.

photographs of rocks collected over 80 years by Ljósbjörg Petra María whilst out walking with her children in Iceland.

these things are all connected,
but only in my head

- david bloor 2016

all tracks recorded by david bloor

linear obsessional recordings 2016

LOR089

linearobsessional.org

